NOTHING OF VALUE TAKEN

Boys Blamed for Petty Crime in the City

Thieves, working almost in the shadow of police headquarters, Sunday night entered three business establishments, the boldest piece of work yet attempted since the beginning of the petty crime wave in this city.

The Lima News' business office, McGinnis Bros' confectionery, E. High-st., and the Home Restaurant, corner Union and High-sts., were entered. Nothing of value was taken from any of these places.

At the News' building and McGinnis Bros., the thieves gained entrance thru transoms facing High-st. In the very path of officers who all night long visit headquarters to make reports and receive instructions.

BOLDNESS CAUSES ALARM
The boldness of thieves here recently is causing much concern. Last week Stein Bros. grocery, corner Elm and N. sts.; the New York Provision Co. store, N. Main-st., and the Orpheum theatre were entered.

Police, who are at a loss in solving the burglar mysteries, blame it on the work of young, inexperienced thieves.

No clue has been found at any of the places burglarized that might lead to the apprehension of the thieves. The burglary at the Home Restaurant Sunday night marked the third time it has been entered this winter. On the two previous occasions burglars robbed the cash register of $18; taking $30 at one time and $18 at another.

The restaurant is in full view of police headquarters.

Sunday night the thieves opened the cash register, but Mrs. Cora Bangs, proprietor, had taken the funds from it when she closed the place Sunday evening.

NEWS OFFICE ENTERED
At the News' office the burglars, after making their way safely thru the front transom, tampered with a safe which is in full view from the street. They took off an iron knob on the inside doors, but were unable to unlock them.

Just a few feet from the front window the thieves opened the cash register, finding it empty. They took up $200 and left the drawer standing open.

Apparently needing tools, they made their way into the composing rooms by breaking a glass in a door and unlocking it from the inside. It is believed they were obtained at some driver which was used in attempting to break into the private office and desks in various places.

While the thieves were at work, McGinnis Bros. they are believed to have been frustrated in their attempt to rob, because cigars, candy and other edibles remained undisturbed. Here they left by opening a rear door, which they failed to close after them.

DEMOCRATS SEEK PARTY MEETING

White Requested to Call Committee for Reorganization

WASHINGTON.—(By Associated Press).—The request made by 49 members of the Democratic national committee that Chairman George White call a meeting for March 1, of the entire committee membership to reorganize the party's machinery, was the chief topic of discussion today in Washington political circles.

While the discussion aroused by the request made in the form of a telegram sent to Chairman White yesterday and authorized for publication today by Thomas B. Love, national committeeman for Texas, took on many angles, one portion of the discussion was regarded by politicians as especially significant. This was the statement of the 49 signers that they wished Chairman White "many years of happiness and added usefulness upon the retirement which he announced shortly after November 2, his private interests would make it necessary for him to seek."

Spokesman, here for the signers of the telegram, said the request for a meeting of the entire 106 members of the committee was made at this time before the executive committee, appointed by him several days ago and called to meet here February 17.

14 LIVES LOST IN IRISH BATTLES

Clashes More Severe as Sinn Feiners Increase Activity

16 PERSONS ARE WOUNDED

Major Offensive Against British Expected This Week

DUBLIN.—(United Press).—A major Sinn Fein offensive against British forces in Dublin is expected this week.

Assuming the aggressive in this region last week Sinn Feiners precipitated battles in which 14 lost their lives and at least 16 persons were wounded. Sinn Fein leaders were reported determined to force Great Britain into a dictation of martial law for the city.

British representatives declared they welcomed Sinn Fein activity as bringing the conflict to a head, making certain it will be terminated more quickly.

NEW REPRISALS

Developments last week included increased aggressiveness by the Sinn Feiners, with announcements that they were prepared to go to even greater lengths, further appreciation of official reprisals by British forces, and advice by Catholic leaders, led by Bishop Cullen, to accept some rule "as a starting of ground."

A new form of reprisal was announced by the British when they rounded up all men of military age in Queenstown, called them off into squads assigning them numbers and dates. Each squad will be reported for information regarding any Sinn Fein attack on crown forces in that region, on the date assigned to that punishment for failure to obey the order was not announced but it was hinted that property reprisal would follow.

PROPERTY BURNED

Property reprisal, the burning of property following ambushes, was practiced last week at Skibbereen and Rossbarney.

The increased stubbornness of Sinn Fein leaders in Dublin was shown here Saturday night when three bottles were provoked in the heart of the city, regardless of the fact that hostages were chained in the lobby attacked. A four year old boy was the only victim of all fighting in which hundreds of persons were stampeded from the streets.

WASHINGTON.—Democratic National Chairman George White, asked by 49 members of national committee to call meeting of that body March 1. White said he would refer it to executive committee.

SOLONS NOW VOTE WITH FINGERS

Iowa Legislators No Longer Use Lungs Answering Roll

ELECTRIC DEVICE IS USED

Opinions Are Recorded by Simply Pushing Button

DES MOINES.—(By Associated Press).—Representatives in the Iowa legislature vote their opinions on roll call now with their fingers. No longer does the clerk call the roll and the member vote with his lungs.

One result of the change is a saving of 15 minutes to half an hour in taking a roll call vote.

When a question is put to a vote every representative may vote at the same time. It is difficult for any to wait and see what some one else will do and let his vote follow.

ELECTRIC DEVICE
Since the session two years ago an electrical voting device has been installed in the house, and already has been used. On each member's desk is a little device to which he carries a key. No two keys are alike. There are three small lights to show him how he is voting. When the question is put the legislator inserts the key, and then manipulates the device. What he does is not only recorded for his own benefit by the light on his desk, but shows on a board above the speaker's head. The members are all named on the board. Opposite the name are three lights and a color.

SOLONS TELL STORY
If his vote is "aye" a red light shows, and a "Y" appears in the slot. A blue light shows and the letter "N" for a negative vote. To merely be recorded present and not voting a white light is used. Within twenty seconds after the voting is completed a photograph of the complete record on the board, taken automatically, is delivered to the clerk. In the meantime, however, the total has been flashed on the speaker's and clerks desks, so the result can be announced immediately. The photograph is the states record.

The machine is controlled by the clerk, who unlocks it and sets it when the vote is called for. As soon as completed he again locks the machine.

U. S. COMPTROLLER SEES PROSPERITY

Country on Sound Economic Basis, Williams Reports

BANKS AT HIGHEST PEAK

Final Adjustment Up to Middleman and Labor

WASHINGTON.—(By Associated Press).—The country is now in many respects on a sounder basis economically than it has been for years, Comptroller of the Currency John Skelton Williams informed congress today.

Deflation obviously inevitable a year ago, has come he said, and prices of many basic commodities and raw materials have returned to pre-war levels or below.

"It now remains for the middleman," the comptroller declared, "to adjust his profits to the new prices before the ultimate consumer will receive the benefit of the reduced cost of living."

Labor, however, Mr. Williams said, must soon determine whether a shutdown and idleness is preferred to a lower wage scale which takes into consideration the lower living charges.

Participation by labor with capital in the profits, he suggested, is the only principle to restore business.

PROSPERITY SEEN

"When conditions abroad become more settled or stabilized," Comptroller Williams declared in a summary of the present outlook, "and when at home much needed adjustments are affected in the costs of the consumer of steel and iron products, which are still quoted about twice their pre-war prices, and when coal, for which the government itself has paid in recent months as much as four times the pre-war price, and certain other commodities which are now being kept up artificially or as a result of monopolistic control far above the pre-war figures, get back to normal level, our country, resting on a solid foundation will be prepared to enter upon a new and, let us hope, long enduring era of prosperity and healthy progress."

BANKS ON INCREASE

During the fiscal year ended June 30, 1920, the comptroller said, there were 8,157 national banks in operation, the highest number ever reported.

Combined resources of all banks in the country on June 30, 1920, including national, state and federal reserve banks, the comptroller said, aggregated $53,157,744,000.

Figures showing for the first time business of the principal borrowers from national banks were presented by the comptroller. Loans and discounts on November 15, 1920, he said, aggregated $13,764,000,000 of which loans to farmers and livestock raisers amounted to $1,998,000,000 or 14 per cent; loans from the manufacturing concerns approximated $2,862,000,000 or 21 per cent; to merchants, mercantile concerns, individuals in the jobbing business and trading wholesale and retail $3,531,000,000 or 25 per cent. Loans reported to bond and stock brokers and dealers in investment securities aggregated $664,000,000; to railroads, shipping companies, electric light and power companies $225,000,000 while the loans to professional men, including doctors, lawyers, teachers, chemists, engineers and clergymen amounted to $375,000,000. Miscellaneous loans amounted to about $4,000,000,000 or 30 per cent of the total.

During the past fiscal year the comptroller reported, three presidents, eight cashiers of banks and 30 assistant cashiers, tellers, bookkeepers and others of national banks were convicted of criminal violations of the banking law and sentenced to terms of imprisonment running up to six years and varying fines.

Mr. Williams made public a table showing the salaries paid the executive officers by all national banks of the country whose resources were in excess of $20,000,000 and showed the largest salary paid any national bank president to be $100,000 a year.

Ten years in prison is the sentence imposed upon Floyd and Arthur J. Carr, cousins, for kidnaping Mrs. Gladys Witherell of Los Angeles and holding her captive in a deserted cabin in the hills seventy-two miles from her home. When captured they pleaded guilty to abducting her and said they did it to "get even" with Mrs. Witherell's father-in-law. They say he "blocked a deal" whereby they hoped to obtain a motor boat at one time. They demanded a ransom from her husband, O. S. Witherell, prominent Los Angeles man.

BOTKIN TRIES TO END LIFE

Convicted Murder of Child Attempts to Cheat Justice When Decision of Court Is Heard—Attorney Preparing For Appeal.

Joshua Botkin, convicted of killing Arthur Bullock, aged 2, in Defiance-co by whipping him with a harness tug while he held the child's head in a pan of water, Monday was safely in the Ohio penitentiary. He appeared to be suffering no bad effects from his attempt to end his life in the Defiance-co jail by electrocution when he heard the decision of the court of appeals, upholding the lower court, which sentenced him to a life term.

Botkin removed a bulb from an electric light cord, poured water on the stone floor of his cell and stood in it in his bare feet, hoping to receive a shock which would cause death, but the current was too weak.

PREPARING APPEAL

T. R. Hamilton, his attorney, Monday held a conference with Joshua Botkin, brother of the convicted man, on the matter of an appeal to the supreme court. He was preparing to certify to the highest court the decision of the court of appeals, rendered here last Friday.

MOTHER SEEKS WILSON'S AID IN SAVING HER SON

OSHING, N. Y.—Mrs. Anna Foster, mother of Jesse Walker, the Evansville, Ind., youth sentenced to be electrocuted in Sing Sing prison next Thursday night, having been unsuccessful in her effort to have Governor Miller save his life, left for Washington today to try and enlist the aid of the United States senators from Indiana and possibly President Wilson in her son's case. He is 21 years of age.

Walker and Guy Nichols, both former seamen in the navy, were convicted of killing Samuel Wolchaki in his stationery store in Brooklyn.

BOMBERS WRECK BIG FACTORY

Revenge for Executions in New York Hinted

BELIEVED RADICAL'S WORK

Archbishop's Home Also Damaged by Explosive

MEXICO CITY.—(By Associated Press).—Police authorities and government secret service agents were engaged today in collecting evidence which might lead to the arrest of men who had been the residence of the Archbishop of Mexico and the building occupied by Juergens and Company, an American jewelry manufacturing concern, in this city, yesterday morning. Four men are under arrest but it is known several others were implicated in the two crimes.

The residence of the archbishop was badly damaged, but the Juergens building was virtually destroyed by the force of the explosion of the infernal machine placed in front of it. Its entire street frontage was wrecked and windows of houses across the street were blown in. The upper story of the factory, which is located in the residence section of the city, was occupied by the families of the owners, but no one was injured.

RADICALS ACTIVE

Information gathered by the police would seem to indicate that for men did the actual work of setting off both bombs. A small car was seen to approach the arch-episcopal residence shortly before four o'clock yesterday morning. It stopped a moment while one man alighted and then started off at a rapid pace, being well down the street when the explosion occurred. What appeared to be the same car or one of similar make, stopped in front of the Juergens factory later, then it hurried away in the direction of Guadalupe. Four men were said to have ridden in each car.

Radical activity has been reported in Mexico City and reports received here say that two communist congresses will be held this month, one in Mexico City and the other in Tampico.

LENINE AGENTS

The newspapers also have reported the arrival during the past week of a number of agitators, two of whom have been characterized by El Universal as being "delegates sent to Mexico by Nikolai Lenine to work among laborers in the interests of the third international of Moscow."

Carlos Rohg, manager of the Juergens factory, declares radical agitators have been exceedingly bold at his plant, having several times stationed themselves at the entrance to the building and threatening the 200 employees with violence if they dared to enter. This aggressive attitude led to the recent closing down of the plant.

There have been suggestions that feeling over the electrocution of two Mexicans, Sanchez and Garcia, in New York, led to the plot at Sing Sing, might have led their friends to attack the Juergens building, but officials of the company are inclined to believe anti-Americanism did not enter into the setting of the bomb. They asserted that it was a mere threat on the part of radicals because their demands had not been met.

Several large demonstrations had been planned for yesterday, one being a parade protesting against the execution of the two Mexicans in New York state. They were not held, however, or there evidently being some apprehension that they would be forcibly suppressed by the police.

FLEETS TO MEET IN SHAM BATTLE

Atlantic and Pacific Ships Line Up For Fight

SANTIAGO, Chile.—(By Associated Press).—Admiral Hugh Rodman, commander-in-chief of the United States Pacific fleet which left Valparaiso on Saturday, had his vessels in battle formation today in preparation for its sham engagement with the United States Atlantic squadron. The fleets were expected to meet somewhere off the northern coast of Chile.

In a wireless dispatch to President Alessandri, Admiral Rodman had expressed his thanks to the Chilean government and people for the reception given the ships and their personnel and wishing the chief executive and administration marked national prosperity.

"We leave your coast," read the message, "with renewed admiration for the high qualities of your people and a conviction of the strong sentiments of friendship which they hold toward people of the United States."

WAR-TIME PLANS

BOARD THE U. S. S. PENNSYLVANIA.—(By Wireless To Associated Press).—War-time routine was being observed today on board the battleship and destroyers of the United States Atlantic fleet. The warships, which left Callao late on Saturday, were steaming southward along the Peruvian coast to meet the United States Pacific fleet which left Valparaiso, Chile, on Saturday, headed north. The two squadrons were expected to meet any time in a sham battle which would closely approximate conditions encountered in wartime on the high seas.

JUST FOLKS--BY EDGAR A. GUEST

THE JOYOUS PAST.

This is what he used to say:

"Take your laughter while you may,

Love the sky when it is blue,

Let the sunshine warm you thru,

Take your fill of earthly joy,

Play the lover and the boy,

Soon, too soon, glad lips grow dumb,

Soon enough will sorrow come."

Then to him the sorrows came,

Quenched was summer's gentle flame,

Round his home the tempests blew,

Chilling all the joys he knew,

Grief and age were his to share,

Winter's snow was in his hair:

Even then he'd smile and say:

"Life was lovely yesterday.

"Battered is this heart of mine

And these eyes have lost their shine,

From the garden I have known

Many tender blooms have flown,

But how rich I've been and glad

Thru the summers I have had;

From the joys of long ago

Come these scars of hurt and woe.

"Lips of beauty I have pressed

Caused this hurt within my breast,

Poor am I today and sad,

But the joys of life I've had;

Life has given what death must take,

Love has built what time must break,

And tho now the joy has flown,

All God's blessings I have known."

M'GANNON ILL AS TRIAL BEGINS

Cleveland Judge Again Faces Court on Murder Charge

LONG LEGAL BATTLE SEEN

Jury May be Composed Entirely of Women

CLEVELAND — (By Associated Press) — The second trial of Judge William H. McGannon on a charge of second degree murder in connection with the fatal shooting of Harold C. Kacy, on the night of May 7, last, opened this morning before Common Pleas Judge Homer C. Powell. It is expected several days will be consumed in the selection of a jury.

Judge McGannon was ill when he appeared in court, and one of his brothers, a physician, said the judge had had a high fever during the night. At first there was talk of postponing the trial, but Judge McGannon said he "wanted to get it over with" and it was decided to proceed.

WOMEN MAY SERVE — The question of women jurors loomed large before the trial began this morning. County Prosecutor Edward C. Stanton said he would make every effort to secure a jury composed of either all men or all women because the jury probably will be kept together for a week or more and the state does not provide for a separation of jurors.

W. H. Boyd, chief counsel for McGannon, declared before the trial started that he would not agree to any such suggestion if made by Stanton to the court.

"I think the jury should be selected in the same manner as other juries—as they come, whether men or women," Boyd said. "As their being kept together, I will sign a waiver of any claim of illegality that might arise from having the women kept separate under a woman bailiff and the men kept separate under a male bailiff."

LINEUP OF ATTORNEYS

Attorneys for both the state and defense were of the belief this morning that a number of talesmen who will be examined for the second trial will exceed the 67 called in the first trial and that three or even four days' time may be consumed in securing a satisfactory jury.

Assistant County Prosecutors James T. Cassidy and E. J. Thoburn are to aid Prosecutor Stanton in conducting the state's case against McGannon.

Attorneys W. H. Boyd and A. A. Garlwright will be McGannon's attorneys. Both defended him at the first trial.

McGannon's first trial commenced on December 14. On December 21, after 48 hours' deliberation, the jury reported it was unable to agree on a verdict and was discharged.

John W. Joyce, former saloon-keeper and Miss Mary E. Neely appeared as the state's star witnesses in the first trial. Joyce was present when Kacy was shot and was first accused of the murder. He was tried and acquitted on the charge.

WOULD DELAY SEWERS

A recommendation will be made by councilman Reed at tonight's council meeting, to hold up the paving of all streets where sewers have been recently laid or where they will be laid in the near future. It is Reed's contention that streets where the earth has been dug up will settle, and that if paving is laid before the ground is completely settled the pavement will crack causing an extra expense for street repair work.

General News Items Sent Out From Kenton

KENTON — The Hardin Co Agricultural Society, which owns the fair grounds and conducts the annual county fair, has reorganized for the ensuing year, as follows: Directors, Ora Battles, Elmer Kaylor, Carl Pfeiffer, Clarence Jump, G. W. Schindewolf. The directors elected: President, G. W. Schindewolf; vice-president, Ora Battles; secretary-treasurer, Henry J. Pfeiffer.

On Saturday, February 12th, the city civil service commission will hear evidence in support of charges filed against Chief of Police L. A. Fugh by Director of Safety P. Baertsche. Fugh was suspended by Mayor C. C. Stevenson Jan. 31st following the filing of the charges, which include allegations that Fugh is physically unqualified for the position, that he has failed to enforce ordinances, disobeyed orders of a superior officer and is guilty of malfeasance in office.

Defendants in a suit for injunction filed by The G. R. Wilmoth Co. of this city, have filed answer to the suit, denying all allegations of the company and asking that the temporary restraining order granted be dissolved. The injunction was secured to keep several members of Local 355 of the International Molders' Union from picketing the Wilmoth Co. plant or interfering with the workmen employed there.

The 1921 Hardin Co fair will be held Sept. 6 to 9. Secretary Pfeiffer has announced. These dates are two weeks later than the local fair was ever before held and will follow the state fair.

NEW POLICE HEAD AT ST. MARYS

Chief Miller Leaves for Vacation in New Mexico

O. RIDER ON NIGHT DUTY

Other News Notes From Vicinity of St. Marys

ST. MARYS — Orville Rider, world war veteran of the local enlisted contingent, has the appointed night police patrolman during the absence of Police Chief Ferd Miller who leaves the first of the week for Roswell, New Mexico, hoping to benefit his health. Patrolman Tony Johns becomes acting police chief.

For the first time in the annuals of the railroad extending over more than twenty years, the Columbus-bound T. and O. C. passenger train leaving St. Marys at 8:40 a. m., had not a passenger. "All aboard" was shouted by Conductor Carlos Benz rather from habit or sarcasm, than thru any need thereof. The circumstance follows the inauguration of the 20 per cent rate increase. Twelve to twenty is an average estimate of the number of people aboard the aforesaid train at St. Marys. Travelers and railroad people believe larger revenue, because of more extensive travel, would accrue from the old than from the new passenger tariff.

Less than a minute was used by each of eight contestants in answering the hundred and twenty combinations of the multiplication table arranged in irregular form, when presented during an arithmetic contest in which three rooms of fourth-grade public school students took part. The "high man," Ralph Davidson, rattled off the 120 answers in 34 seconds. Time varied from forty to fifty-one seconds in the cases of Loh Mann, Leslie Bamberger, Jacob Koenig, Emma M. Madsen, Carl Cooper, Eunice Conner, Lester Hunter.

A score of 32 and 21 in favor of the St. Marys Athletic Basketball team, is the result of its game with the Ohio Northern university five of Ada. The game is pronounced the most remarkable in a series of extraordinary contests in St. Marys. The Athletics claim the western Ohio championship in basketball. The collection from Ada, expected to achieve the title on their visit to St. Marys. The scholastic athletes are holders of the western Ohio conference championship.

GUILT DENIED.

Four negroes charged with gambling pleaded not guilty when arraigned before Judge Emmett Jackson in criminal court Monday morning.

The fifth, William Jackson, 38, charged with conducting a poker game in his pool room at 144 W. Fourth-st Saturday night, also denied the accusations.

DETROIT MAN DIES TO PROVE THE LIVING CAN COMMUNICATE WITH DEAD

DETROIT — In an attempt to prove that the living can communicate with the dead, T. Lynn Bradford, lecturer and writer, gave his life.

It is believed today there is a girl in Detroit whom Bradford believed would talk to him after death.

Bradford was found dead in his rooming house a suicide. Beside his body lay several works on spiritualism.

"Can the Dead Communicate With the Living," was the title of a typewritten manuscript which had not been finished. According to his friends, Bradford recently inserted an advertisement in Detroit papers asking for any one interested in spiritualism to call and see him. A girl answered and visited the rooming house. It is believed it was this girl with whom Bradford wished to talk to from his grave.

Bradford was a graduate of a Chicago school of oratory. He claimed Detroit was his home. No relatives have been found.

NEW PLAN FOR SELLING STOCKYARDS IS OFFERED

WASHINGTON — Attorneys for Armour and Company and Swift and Company today filed with the district supreme court a new plan for selling their stockyard interests. Previous plans proposing the sale of the yards to F. H. Prince and Company of Boston had been disapproved by the court.

The court was asked to appoint sales agents, who under supervision of trustees shall sell the yards giving preference to buyers in this order:

Livestock producers; stockholders in the yards other than the defendants, common carriers serving the yards, local citizens or municipalities or local syndicates.

Physicians recommend it and prescribe it because it contains just the ingredients needed to make red blood. It renews your energy, puts you, where you ought to be. Begin with it today. PROMINENT NEW YORK MAN PRAISES TANLAC

John F. Hyatt, of Albany, N. Y., Is Relieved of Severe Attack of Rheumatism of Many Years' Standing

JOHN F. HYATT
227 Pearl St., Albany, N. Y.

"I am now seventy-one years old and am just getting rid of fifteen-year case of rheumatism that had me so crippled up I could not walk," said John F. Hyatt, 227 Pearl St., Albany, N. Y., in relating his remarkable experience with Tanlac. Recently, Mr. Hyatt was chairman of the committee in charge of building the Albany County Courthouse and was four times elected a member of the County Board of Supervisors. At present Mr. Hyatt is Assistant Superintendent of the Albany County Courthouse, with offices in the building.

"I don't believe," he continued, "anybody could have rheumatism any worse than I did, and my case was of such long standing I didn't expect to ever get over it. I was unable to walk except for a short distance, supported with a cane, and even then the pains struck me every time I took a step. My legs, hips and ankles hurt something awful and my joints were stiff and aching. I couldn't cross my leg without having to lift it up with my hands, and to turn over in bed, why, the pains nearly killed me.

"My appetite was gone and the sight of food nauseated me. My stomach was out of order, and I had a sluggish, heavy feeling all the time. I was weak, off in weight and discouraged so that it looked like I might as well quit trying to ever get well.

"I had no idea Tanlac would relieve my rheumatism when I began taking it last Spring. I took it because I saw where it would give a fellow an appetite. Well, sir, I was the most surprised I ever was in my life when the rheumatic pains began to ease up. I took seven bottles in all and, it's a fact, I didn't have an ache about me, was eating fine and simply felt like I had been made over again.

"I have been in the best of health ever since, with only a slight twinge of rheumatism at intervals. I do not need my cane now, but as I had been unable to walk without it for several years, I got into the habit of carrying it and so still take it along. I am enjoying life and health once more and can conscientiously recommend Tanlac as the greatest medicine I have ever run across in all my experience."

Tanlac is sold in Lima at Hunter's Drug Stores and the leading druggist in every town.—Adv.

PROTECT YOUR HEALTH

DO not be fooled by the warm days we have been experiencing practically all winter. Physicians say they bring grave danger of sickness, in fact already have resulted in an abnormal amount of croup, grip and pneumonia in Lima so far.

This is pneumonia weather. Doctors urge every precaution to prevent a general spread of the disease.

They blame the warm days which have tempted persons to cast aside their winter garments for lighter weights. That is dangerous.

It is common sight to see both men and women on the streets dressed in clothing more suitable for spring or summer.

There are a number of things to do to prevent pneumonia. Some of them are: Keep your feet dry as much as possible and if they become wet, dry them as soon as you can; do not take off your winter clothes because you believe you will be a little uncomfortable with the warm sun beaming down; do not open windows and permit drafts, altho plenty of fresh air is essential; do not allow a cold to continue without attention as it may easily lead to pneumonia; take much exercise.

Lima has been fortunate so far this year in the matter of disease. There have been few contagious cases reported, but a real menace to the public's health lurks in carelessness during the warm, damp days.

MEN OFFENDED

MALE students at Brown University have been offended, therefore their war on what they term "Don't-give-a-damn-society-girls." The men of this staid institution of learning declare they are tired of having girls appear at dances in short socks, knee dresses whose garters show when they whirl about in the "Camel walk." They also oppose the "cheek to cheek" dance and drinking by girls for the sake of devilishness.

Pitiless publicity will be the route taken by the mere men to reform their "erring" sisters. They announce that they will give especial attention to mothers who allow their daughters to "popularize indecency."

William L. Hall, editor of the Brown Daily Herald, declares that it is time for the men to act since mothers and daughters won't. He asserts that the men do not lay claim to any extra virtue, but that they do consider it a duty to start in the reform business in this matter.

All we have to say is that the well-meaning young men of Brown have a big task ahead of them. As long as fashion decrees the things they are to do battle to eliminate, so long will the fair ones continue to wear them. The experiment, however, will be interesting.

SUSIE SMART'S COLUMN

TOOTING one's own horn isn't always in good taste, but there are times when it is excusable; in fact, proper to do so. This comment has to do with an exception.

Reference is made to the "Susie Smart Column" appearing daily in The Lima News, one of the original features that has become popular with all classes of people, young and old. Miss Smart has at her command an inexhaustible fund of information necessary for supplying answers to the multitudinous list of questions that find their way to her desk. All sensible, sincere queries are quickly and properly answered, the name of the person seeking the information being held strictly confidential. Nonsensical questions, occasionally received, are relegated to the yawning waste basket.

Domestic problems confront many. Susie Smart points the way to anxious inquirers concerning questions of heart and home. Motherly advice is given to boys and girls, men and women. Letters received long after questions are laid before Miss Smart and the advice she gives is followed, convey to her thanks for having afforded the solution of problems that were serious to those seeking enlightenment on situations that were formidable.

The "Susie Smart Column" has become a fixed and indispensable institution which is performing a real service. Queries are solicited by Miss Smart. Where personal answers are desired by those submitting queries, a correctly addressed and stamped envelope should accompany the letter. Confidential advice will be afforded free.

SOME MORE NONSENSE

"BURN your Liberty bonds and the price of commodities will drop," says Dean Johnson of the New York University. This is utter nonsense and, of course, such advice will not be followed, says The Dayton News. Who in his right sense would want to burn up a $100 bill or ten of such bills? Liberty bonds represent money. They represent more than money. They represent a certain fixed agreement entered into between the government of the United States and individual citizens to the number of several millions. As well might some man of prominence mount the public forum and say to the people of the nation: "Up and destroy the fabric of free government and the ties which bind the people or America to their constitution. If these existing ties are broken the price of everything will drop and the period of Utopianism will be ushered in."

Now, any sensible citizen knows that the strongest link in any well ordered government is the confidence which citizenship holds in that government. When confidence waned in Germany the Hohenzollern dynasty declined and finally fell into ruins. The same is true in Russia under the imperial reign of the former czar and true, also, in connection with the national affairs of the once dual monarchy, Austria-Hungary. Confidence is the supreme thing that makes governments able to render service. When this is lost all is lost. And Dean Johnson went much too far in his desire to effect a change or produce a way of escape from the prevailing high prices.

If holders of Liberty bonds were to act upon his advice they would destroy at the touch of the torch an element that in a very large measure associates the people of the United States with their governmental affairs in Washington. Liberty bonds serve as a sort of tie which binds us all together. We, in the purchase of these bonds, have bought a permanent share in this business that we call government. Burn these bonds and destroy the connecting link and it would not take six months for anarchy or Bolshevism to follow. We need to study over these things more carefully today than ever before, particularly in view of the fact that a lot of nonsense is being spoken by men who hold superior positions in this, that or the other affair associated with our national business.

Burning Liberty bonds, far from bringing about a decline of prices, would be the first step, we should imagine, in the breaking down of the necessary relationship between the nation and the people of America. No well meaning citizen would sponsor such a suggestion, if he gave the matter a moment's thought.

MISS LIMA. "The salesman who sold us a floor lamp didn't say it right out, but we have a sneaking suspicion that he felt it wasn't good for anything only to make an impression on the neighbors."

IMPORTED GENIUS.

If I were but a foreigner
And waved a wicked quill,
I could come to America
And golden coffers fill.

Americans would flock to hear
My lectures and would say
That I was quite the brightest bird

Publishers would grab my books,
And magazines my plays,
And I would be a lion in
A lot of different ways.

When one is born a foreigner,
He's really quite the goods,
And has it on the home-grown gink
In our neck of the woods.

For he can get away with stuff
Out of a cracked brain-pain,
And gather in the Yankee dough
As no American.

BAD TASTE

A peculiar cause of an unpleasant, and foul breath may be caused by reverse peristalsis, that is, the wavelike movements carry material back toward the stomach. This state of affairs is a frequent one in persons who imagine themselves "bilious." The "dark brown taste" is due to material regurgitated in minute quantities from the stomach up into the throat; and this material coats the back of the tongue yellowish. But he it understood that "biliousness" just isn't; or in other words, there is nothing wrong with the bile apparatus or the liver, particularly in such cases, at least not until the deluded victim begins taking pot-shots at his liver with drivers and sundry medicines. Now and then a persistent bad taste in the mouth is due to early arteriosclerosis or early nephritis (Bright's disease), as Dr. Thomas F. Rely pointed out several years ago. Secretions retained in the crypts or openings of the tonsil may cause a bad taste at intervals. Retained secretion or detritus of this kind is a very frequent cause of foul breath. The physician may express such masses when examining the tonsils and give prolonged relief.

Infection of one of the nasal sinuses is a fairly common cause of foul taste. Various drugs not particularly disagreeable to take may be eliminated in part thru the salivary secretion and cause extremely unpleasant taste in the mouth afterwards.

WHAT THE STARS PREDICT

This is an unlucky day. Propaganda which tends to mislead the public will abound during the coming year. This is not a lucky day for those starting on business trips, as they will be subject to insuring influences. It is indicated that there will be severe earthquake shocks shortly after the new moon appears. Persons whose birthday this is should avoid litigation during the coming year. Children born on this day will have psychic qualities, and should have good practical training. (Copyright, 1921)

YOUR NAME

By PHILIP FRANCES NOWLAN
VARIATIONS—Colman, MacColman, MacColman, O'Colman, Dow, Down, Pigeon, Pidgeon.
RACIAL ORIGIN—Irish and Scottish.
SOURCE—Given names.
The Anglicized forms of these Irish and Highland Scottish clan names do not in every case reveal their specific origin.
Altogether they come from the given names. There were three clans or sept, two in Ireland and one in Scotland, bearing these names, the name of one of the Irish and the Scottish clans having developed from the same given name, but independently.
The most ancient of the three clans apparently is that branch of Ireland which spelled the name "O'Columban." It originated as an offshoot of Fogarty clan, as near as can be ascertained, as early as 350 A. D., under the leadership of "Columban Mor" (Columban the Great), who was the son of Diarmid, the 133d monarch of all Ireland, and was himself the sixth Christian king of Meath. The clan furnished several of the high kings of Ireland succeeding generations. Donald O'Colman, was the 161st of these and reigned from 758 A. D. His son "Donchadh" (Donogh) became the 163d high king. The 167th high king was also an O'Colman, but known as "Maolseachlainn Mor" (Malachy the Great).
Then there was in Ireland an offshoot. A blue light shows and the name "Clann Columban," from the given name "Columban" ("little dove").
From this same name, borne as a surname by an entirely different clan, the name "MacColman" developed in Scotland. "MacColman" and "MacColman." The meaning of this given name explains the other Anglicized variations.

JACK BRITTON TO FIGHT ENGLISH FIGHTER IN NEW YORK TONIGHT—FIGHTERS TO MEET EACH OTHER FOR 19th TIME—MATCHES FOR WEEK

TED LEWIS TO TRY TO WIN CROWN IN FIGHT

By HENRY L. FARRELL.

NEW YORK.—Haig and Haig, Lea and Perry, Sears-Roebuck and other widely known double workers haven't a thing on Britton and Lewis. For five years this pair has been peddling their boxing goods. Tonight in Madison Square Garden they meet for the 19th time.

It will be a bout for the welter-weight championship and the long distance record of the world.

Around New York where the champion is considered almost a son, the betting figures are six to five. The Irishman's camp grants this but calls to mind the Englishman faces the old jinx of having been knocked out once by the champion and they figure he can still fight with his head after the steam has gone out of his arms.

IS UNIQUE CHARACTER
Britton, who is known around his friends as William J. Breslin, is one of the most unique characters of the ring. He is 35 years old and a veteran of 15 years experience. He has fought all over the United States and perhaps is more familiar to the fans in the bushes than any other champion.

Britton is one of the cleverest fighters in the ring and is a master of defensive tactics.

He can also hit when necessity requires it.

Lewis, to win the championship must knock him out, for it is almost dogmatic among ring followers that no one in the class can outbox him. Lewis is clever but not in the same degree.

Both are in good condition and reported this morning they would have no trouble in making 147 pounds at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

MAHONING-CO AFTER GOLF TOURNEY

YOUNGSTOWN — The Youngstown Country Club may be the scene of the Ohio amateur golf championship tournament next summer. The Hyde Park course, Cincinnati, is also bidding for the tourney, but odds seem to favor the Mahoning County Club.

Youngstown people are enthusiastic bidders for the tourney and since the championship was played down state last season, it is northern Ohio's turn for the honor, it is felt here.

IS NEW
The Youngstown course, while comparatively new, is said to be in fine condition for a championship, and will furnish a good, if not severe test of golf, it is said. The course is 6,275 yards in length, and well bunkered.

It contains several interesting holes, one of the best being the eighteenth, the tee of which is at the edge of a pretty lake, with the green on the opposite shore, 225 yards away. A brook and several drainage ditches afford water hazards, and gently broken contour of the ground does not make the course fatiguing to the player.

Emmet French, professional, is in charge of the course, and he has made it several times in scores under 70. Ted Ray gave the club members and others a mark to shoot at, when he made the first five holes in birdie three, while playing an exhibition match here last summer.

IS BOOSTED
Paul Jones, former Western Reserve football coach, and E. B. Sherman are guiding spirits of the club, which is composed of ardent sportsmen.

It is probable, it is said, that the Ohio open championship, which went by the boards last summer, will be revived this year, if a suitable course can be provided. The last open was played over the Inverness course, Toledo, in the early fall and 1919 and drew a star field.

The selection of course and date of play will be decided by officials of the Ohio State Golf Association, within a few days.

SINGING HAS BIG EFFECT IN GAMES

CHICAGO — History records the night of song in battle—the concerted efforts of Cromwell's Ironsides being a noted example—but what about the singing football eleven that sings itself into victory?

The eleven of Drake university is reported not only to have sung itself to success on the gridiron last fall, but to have developed a musical ensemble which just naturally made it a glee club, now engaged in turning up an honest evening dollar around Des Moines.

KEEPS UP COURAGE

Right now the football public is due for a lot of celebration on the merits of song as an aid to heroic spurning on the gridiron, just as the prayer did for the Centre college eleven—the noted praying Kentuckians.

Old timers of the gridiron sport declare that it's hard to believe that singing itself will put anything over in the brief interval of a football game—singing, they say, belongs more with keeping up courage over longer spans of time. Teeth clenching words, permitting no cadences of song, are the most efficacious aid, the old timers say, to the violent plunge needed to breach a line that objects to being breached, or to turn an end fiercely resolute that he shall not be turned.

It is not necessary that these words be beyond the social pale, but, unfortunately, they sometimes are.

NOT A NEW THING

Singing is not distinctly new in football. The powerful eleven developed at the University of Michigan in the period of 1901 to 1904 used to sing a little song, hardly more than a line, everytime they set out to smash up an opposing defense, which they inveterately did as the gridiron chronicles of that time will show. But the song, they say was more of a hymn of triumphal progress arising out of a conviction of superiority than any keying up courage.

A member of the Michigan squad was quizzed about this rumored singing habit of the old Wolverine teams.

"HOT TIME" POPULAR

"Well, I can't say there was any organized effort at singing on those old time teams, and certainly Coach Yost never did any bantam work with us, altho he used to repeat that 'Hurry Up' of his so regularly it got to be a sort of song in itself. But the fellows did warble a bit now and then when the going was particularly tough. Lines from 'Hot time in the old town tonight,' 'He rambled,' and 'The dummy, dummy line' were the most frequent ones to spring up on their lips—perhaps because the bleachers used to sing them so much they were quite in the atmosphere.

"That 'Riding on the dummy,' on the dummy, dummy line' was hummed most, for you see it had gotten to be a sort of habit. The squad of 1903—as forceful as any—did its pre-season training out at Whitmore Lake, reached from Ann Arbor by a little jerkwater railway. Riding on this line made the song peculiarly apt. It isn't so hard to imagine 'Bill' Heston, running roughshod off tackle, stiff-arming whatever opposition he didn't step on, and humming on his way the 'Dummy, dummy line.' Sometimes, of course, he didn't go all the way thru, in which case he would finish out the song on the ground, somewhat staccato.

OLD SEA SONG

There was also the corruption of the old sea-song. You will remember the original ran like this: 'Fifteen men on a dead man's chest, Yo-ho-ho, and a bottle of rum.'

"That particular corruption for Michigan gridiron vocality got its inception in 1903 aboard a train on the way to Chicago for the wind-up game of the season. Yost had been worrying over the light heartedness with which his men regarded the coming contest on Marshall field. He got them together in one coach and rhapsodized at some length on the prowess of Eckersall, Maxwell, Catlin and other Chicago stars. The men were dutifully sober for few minutes after they resumed their seats but it wasn't long before the old exuberance broke forth and someone got up this line, quite to the point of its adaptation. 'Eleven men sitting on Eckersall's chest, Yo-ho-ho, and a bottle of rum.'

"They interpolated in succession the name of every Maroon mentioned by Yost, and even he finally had to grin.

START WORK ON YANK'S HOME

NEW YORK — Engineers started today on work preliminary to the erection of the two million dollar home of the New York Yankees at 151st Street and River Avenue in Bronx.

The tract adjoining the Harlem River, purchased from the Astor estate, must be drained and filled in before the Osborne engineering company, Cleveland, can start work on the stadium.

The stadium is expected to be completed for the 1923 season.

LATEST GAB IN SPORTING CIRCLES

The release of Eugene Sheridan by the Dodgers to New Orleans brings to mind one of the prize hard luck tales of the 1920 season. Sheridan lives in Brooklyn. This is not the hard luck referred to. As a matter of fact, Gene thinks well of the city as a place of residence, and some day in the very near future hopes, and with good reason, to be a regular infielder on the Dodger team.

He was recommended to President Ebbets and signed to a contract by Manager Robby in 1918. His first appearance in a major league game was made at the Polo grounds, and but for a little hard luck he would have broken in on his first time at bat with a home run. Gene drove one of Al Demaree's twisters into the right field stands—it was a foul by inches.

Shortly after this Sheridan enlisted in the navy and made several overseas trips. Before the armistice was signed. The following season, 1919, he was released to Reading of the International league, and, also played with that club last season. He did not play in one game of the 140 or more played by Reading during 1920. Upon completion of the International schedule last September he was recalled by Brooklyn.

Then came his second appearance with the big team of his own home town and the particular hard luck referred to. In the very first inning Gene went down to second to take a throw on an attempted steal and had his finger badly split. This was certainly a tough break after going thru every game with Reading, but that may not have been the most unfortunate part of the business.

As is recalled, Jimmy Johnston was injured at Cleveland in the first game of the world's series, and Sheenan, a young player, was given the chance to jump into the breach. More than likely, Sheridan, if he had weeks with the Dodgers, might even have taken the place of Johnston in the world's series.

Harry Frazee, smarting perhaps under criticism of his moves to give the Boston fans a good baseball show next season, is out with an interview in which he tells a newspaper man that he has confidence in Hugh Duffy to put over a winner and "if money, baseball brains and time can produce a winner for Boston, then we will have one again."

Frazee says his various theater enterprises are going to big; he hasn't had much time to give to baseball, but now that the politics of the winter have been disposed of he means to get busy. The interest in the show business, he argues, indicates that we are in for a big year in baseball, which he also regards as an amusement enterprise primarily, and he says he has no reason to believe the coming season should not be as prosperous as the past one.

In due time he will give the baseball end of his busy career some needed attention, but just now, thank you, he's so busy with the show business he really asks to be excused.

Roger Bresnahan, who was criticized when he signed the veteran Nig Clarke to catch for the Toledo Mudhens, says old Nig will foot them all the coming season. Bresnahan declares Clarke will prove himself the best catcher in the American Association and that three other

TEAM IS STRENGTHENED WITH NEW MATERIAL, HE SAYS

PITTSBURGH, Mass.—(United Press.)—Cincinnati will make a bid for the national league pennant with a much stronger team than made the race last year, according to Pat Moran, manager of the Reds.

The genial boss of the Ohio team is busy with the training of his men.

Summing up the outlook for the coming season, however, he said:

"Things look pretty good to me at this early date. Of course I haven't signed up all of my men and there are a lot of loose ends to be tied together but when the dotted line of every Red contract has been filled we will be in good shape.

"We could get most any place in we wanted for Helms Groh, but would avail us nothing to weaken one position for strength in another.

"Reuther, Ring, Neale, and Rath are gone but I think the club has been strengthened by the trades which brought Rixey and Marquard to us. They are two of the best south paws in the league. If Luque's arm is in good condition, and it should be, we will have an excellent pitching staff.

LAUDS HARGRAVE
"Hargrave is a finished catcher and he's bound to make us strong behind the bat while in Britton we have a youngster who shows promise of becoming a regular from the start.

"I'm not talking pennant for the Reds but neither am I worrying about what they'll do in the 1921 drive."

TEAM IS STRENGTHENED WITH NEW MATERIAL, HE SAYS

PITTSBURGH, Mass.—(United Press.)—Cincinnati will make a bid for the national league pennant with a much stronger team than made the race last year, according to Pat Moran, manager of the Reds.

The genial boss of the Ohio team is busy with the training of his men.

Summing up the outlook for the coming season, however, he said:

"Things look pretty good to me at this early date. Of course I haven't signed up all of my men and there are a lot of loose ends to be tied together but when the dotted line of every Red contract has been filled we will be in good shape.

"We could get most any place in we wanted for Helms Groh, but would avail us nothing to weaken one position for strength in another.

"Reuther, Ring, Neale, and Rath are gone but I think the club has been strengthened by the trades which brought Rixey and Marquard to us. They are two of the best south paws in the league. If Luque's arm is in good condition, and it should be, we will have an excellent pitching staff.

LAUDS HARGRAVE
"Hargrave is a finished catcher and he's bound to make us strong behind the bat while in Britton we have a youngster who shows promise of becoming a regular from the start.

"I'm not talking pennant for the Reds but neither am I worrying about what they'll do in the 1921 drive."

DUBLIN — One officer and a child killed and several civilians wounded in suburban ambushes of military lorries.

He went away then, without a word of a further glance at the man. But Bryce had already read himself of what he was certain was a fact—that a look of unshakable relief had swept across Mitchington's face for the fraction of a

MUTT AND JEFF—CAN YOU IMAGINE A MUTT IN THE WHITE HOUSE?

BRINGING UP FATHER—

SHORT SHAVINGS

"I hear you've been back on a visit to the old cow country. It must seem rather tame out there since civilization set in."

"Tame! Say, the way the boys out there dash around the country in laer Stivers makes a bucking broncho look like a rocking horse."

"A friend of mine wrote a note to the woman editor of a magazine, offering her his heart and hand."

"Did she accept?"

"No. She replied briefly that the rejection of his offer did not imply a lack of merit."

A story is told of the late Samuel Spencer. The trains of his railroad were frequently late. He resolved to correct the service. As the train to which his special car was attached one day drew into its terminal he looked at his watch. It registered exactly noon—the time of scheduled arrival.

He sent for the engineer.

"My friend," the great railway executive said, beaming, "do you know what you have done? You have broken the record you have arrived on time. My congratulations; also, here is $10."

The engineer reached for the money, but he then sadly handed it back. "I am sorry to have to tell you, Mr. Spencer," he said, "but I cannot take your present, for the truth is this is yesterday's train."

Today can ride on yesterday's train. Today has to be on time. "One minute late" is just one minute too late to keep a man abreast of the procession.

WHY "ANURIC"

Before an Insurance Company will take a risk on your life the examining physician will test the urine and report whether you are a good risk. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog, you suffer from backache, sick-headache, dizzy spells, or the twinges and pains of lumbago, rheumatism and gout. The urine is often cloudy, full of sediment; channels often get sore and sleep is disturbed two or three times a night. This is the time you should consult some physician of wide experience—such as Dr. Pierce, of the 'Invalide' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y. Send him 10c for large trial package of his new discovery—"An-uric" (anti uric acid). Write him your symptoms and send a sample of urine for test.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c.
